How to connect to a home network

In the bottom right of your Chromebook, you should see a light grey oblong shape, which includes a wireless icon, a battery icon, and the time of day, potentially with other notification types.

Click this shape, and you should see a screen like this

The top left circle is your wireless connection. To reset it, click it off and back on again. (Blue means "ON") This should force your chromebook to refresh the list of available wireless connections. In the drop down menu, select your home wifi network.
