

Federalist 51 Quotes

Ambition must be made to counteract ambition.

The background is a solid orange color with a pattern of darker orange leaf silhouettes scattered around the edges, particularly on the left and right sides.

If men were angels, no
government would be necessary

...the constant aim is to divide and arrange the several offices in such a manner as that each may be a check on the other;

In republican government the legislative authority, necessarily, predominates. The remedy for this inconvenience is, to divide the legislative into different branches.

The background of the slide is a solid orange color, decorated with various silhouettes of autumn leaves in a slightly darker shade of orange. The leaves are scattered across the frame, with some appearing as simple outlines and others as more detailed shapes with veins.

The different governments will control each other; at the same time that each will be controlled by itself.

If a majority be united by a common interest, the rights of the minority will be insecure.

In a free government, the security for civil rights must be the same as for religious rights. It consists in the one case in the multiplicity of interests, and in the other, in the multiplicity of sects.

Justice is the end of government.

The larger the society...the more duly capable it will be of self-government.